meeting Thursday that came out of the team meeting regarded as positive by FSU athletic director David Coburn. A number of Seminole took to Twitter to share their support for Norvell and the FSU staff.

After the meeting, Wilson tweeted he has moved on from any ill will toward Norvell:

"Took A stand we got what we wanted & we are moving forward!!! I appreciate @Coach_Norvell for encouraging me change that came out when I needed to be growing up.

"Coming back around full circle, yesterday I took a stand that was not only for me and FSU football, not even for athletes in general. It was for Big George Floyd, black people in general, for the oppression that we've been going through for over 400 years.

"I want to say shout out to Colin Kaepernick for being the first athlete I ever things that came out of the team meeting Thursday morning.

First off, Wilson explained that every member of the FSU football team is going to be registered to vote for the upcoming election, saying, "We're going to have our say so on this next election."

Secondly, Wilson said FSU is going to do more fundraising as a program that will donate money to organizations that send black children to colleges, adding,
